WHO CAN JOIN?

Associate Membership is open to companies engaged in plant breeding or seed trading.

If there is an ISF Ordinary Member in your country of registration, you must be a member of that National Seed Association (if you are eligible to join and the Ordinary member has the relevant crop coverage).

WHAT MAKES ISF DIFFERENT?

Broader policy reach than any other Seed Association through recognised observer status, incl. UPOV, OECD Seed Schemes, ISTA, WIPO, FAO, IPPC, CBD, IT, and more.

Ongoing engagement through working groups and task forces plus voting rights and board participation putting you at the centre of decision-making.

Members-only portal for peer exchange and direct support through ISF technical and expert teams, including arbitration framework in case of disputes.
